

City Planning Ordinance Adoption Recommended

Subdivision regulation of Bay St. Louis moved closer to reality Tuesday night when the City Planning Commission unanimously voted to recommend adoption by City Commission Council of a subdivision ordinance confined to the area within the corporate limits.

Andy J. Becker offered the motion recommending adoption with the revisions inserted during the two-hour session with Robert Bateman, city planning consultant from Mobile, Ala. This opens the way for council to hold a public hearing before putting the new code into effect.

Mayor John A. Scafide who sat in on the session said as soon as the revised proposal is returned by Bateman he expects council to set the public hearing date. The city also must sign a contract with the state in order to benefit from the federal matching funds available to municipalities for city planning.

Aerial photographs of the city are being ordered in preparation for a new master map which will include all area inside the city and one mile beyond.

Probably the major change in the proposed ordinance voted by the planners was reducing street surfacing requirements in new subdivisions despite objections from Bateman that it was poor economics, both from the standpoint of upkeep and getting desirable clientele.

The consultant had proposed a hard surface permanent type of pavement, noting that when they were turned over to the city in that state there would be no maintenance cost for several years. Otherwise, he argued, people would build on the lots and then rush in and ask the city to pave the streets.

E. M. Brignac protested the cost of bringing in the necessary equipment for this work when only a 300 or 400 street extension was entailed. He questioned public support of this provision and the mayor suggested an all-weather gravel base with any future surfacing done on a special assessment basis. Bateman expressed doubt that the city would grow with a gravel street pattern, saying that was fine for outside areas.

The mayor observed that in the past subdivisions have been developed and lots sold, the buyers being under the impression the city was going to blacktop the streets. He said he wanted no doubt in the buyers' minds of the procedure under this ordinance, whereupon Becker moved for all-weather bases with special assessments for hardsurfacing. Brignac seconded the motion and it carried.

Beat 5 Supervisor R. G. Hubbard Jr., who was present, suggested a two-thirds vote be required on petitions for hardsurfacing later and Scafide explained the procedure for the will of the most frontage on a street to hold.

Chairman H. H. Shatrick questioned whether the jurisdiction of the planning commission should be written to extend the proposed five miles beyond the corporate limits. Scafide proposed that it be limited to the area inside the corporate limits and that was agreed.

Bateman suggested that if hardsurfaced streets were not required, there was no point in calling for curbs and gutters. Scafide cited the maintenance

School Lunch Price Hiked

A nickel hike in the price of lunches in the Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School District was necessitated by a cut in the reimbursement received from the state, Superintendent J. D. McCulloch said this week.

Meals, including milk, are now being served in the school lunchrooms for 25 cents. McCulloch observed that nearly all the nearby school systems as well as St. Joseph Academy, have had the 25 cent rate for some time.

Clerk Tells Shortage In Fund for Beat 4

The Beat 4 road and bridge maintenance fund was overdrawn by approximately $400, Clerk Claiborne Lader told the Board of supervisors at a recessed meeting Monday. He subsequently explained it might be because of an error in the book-keeping of two other accounts that occurred last year.

Lader said the situation apparently occurred when Bonds 3 and 4 in the amount of $2,000 were paid out of the road and bridge special project fund causing Beat 4 Supervisor James Necaise to believe he was short of funds in the project fund. In addition to the $400 it was necessary to borrow about $1,000 from another fund to complete the project which was the Kiln-Picayune road, he said. Money from the road and bridge maintenance fund was used to complete the road.

Necaise said some of the bills had not been paid and he would present evidence of cost of work done at the Sept. 6 meeting, adding that the unpaid bills could be deferred until money was available in the next fiscal year. He said the maintenance fund was low and still had about two months of the fiscal year to go. This is not an unusual situation supervisors agreed.

Board Attorney Sam L. Favre Jr. reminded members they should divide the money allotted them for the year by 12 months and not exceed the budget in any month.

Three bids were opened for crushed slag and stone and uncrushed gravel for use in Beat 5. Some bids quoted prices delivered locally while others were quoted f.o.b. the shipping point and members were unable to decide which was the lowest or best bid. Beat 5 Supervisor R. G. Hubbard Jr. said he needed the material stockpiled on the job. On motion of Necaise seconded by Charles A. Russ Jr. it was unanimously voted to hold the bids over until a study and report could be made by the county engineer.

Bidders were Williams Gravel Co., Inc. of Poplarville; Mississippi Aggregate Co. of Jackson and American Sand and Gravel Co. of Hattiesburg.

On motion of Necaise seconded by Russ the clerk was directed to readvertise the old Kings Daughters Hospital on Carroll Avenue after it was pointed out that the previous advertisement did not set a date for bids to be accepted but only notified the public the building could be inspected at certain times. Date of opening bids was set for Sept.

23, and inspection of the building may be done by calling the Hancock General Hospital administrator.

A letter from Chancellor William G. Hewes was read requesting appointment of Nellus Rhodes as youth court referee at $500 per year. Russ recommended.

Open Oyster TONGING North Of Bay Bridge

The oyster season has returned with the advent of September.

Joseph V. Colson, Hancock County representative on the Mississippi Marine Conservation Commission, said that effective today oyster tonging will be permitted in the Bay of St. Louis north of the railroad bridge.

The commission has ruled that only oysters three inches or longer may be taken. Only tonging will be tolerated and the commission will move against anyone who violates this by dredging. Colson said. The dredging season probably will be fixed later this year or early next.

The commissioner was not too optimistic about the oyster outlook in the Bay but noted shells have been planted and more are due to be in late September which should portend a good future. He observed that this is one of the most fertile areas on the coast.

He also disclosed that the marine body has signed a 10-year contract with Jahneke Service, Inc., of New Orleans to dredge dead oyster shells at 12 cents a yard with a minimum guarantee of $16,000 a year. The commission retains full control over what area shall be dredged and the contractor is to work at least 60 days a year in Mississippi which should assure the state of a sizeable revenue hike.

CLERMONT GOES FOR BOND ISSUE - The Clermont Harbor box was one of three in Beat 5 in favor of the proposed bond issue to finance hardsurfacing of roads in the district at election last Saturday. Tallying ballots are, from left, Mrs. John Saleeby, Mrs. Bertrand Lader and Charles Burgdorf.

Beat 5 Voters Turn Down Bond Issue on Road Work

The first bond issue for street improvement outside of the city limits in Beat 5 ever voted during the administration of Supervisor R. G. Hubbard Jr. was defeated at the election, 545 to 451. Only 40 percent of the qualified voters voted.

Clermont Harbor was the precinct voting for the issue, the count being 72-10 for, 37-77 against.

James Russell Committee

James M. Russell Jr., local attorney and civilian colonel on the staff of the late Gen. Barnett's staff, has named to a five-man committee from the 6th Congressional District to assist the state's independent electoral college.

The selection came at a meeting of some 100 insurgents from the Mississippi in Jacksonville, Fla. Governor Barnett and Sullivan, one of the independent electors, addressed the gathering, most of which was behind closed doors, designed the movement as an effort to persuade people to preserve the government and to preserve constitutional principles.

He noted the issue would have provided more than 15 miles of hard surfaced roads in Beat 5, many in Clermont Harbor, Waveland and Lakeshore, and the hardsurfacing and construction of two concrete bridges on Washington Street. Also that $25,000 was earmarked for bridge and culvert construction. The issue

Seek Suspects For Break-In At Beach Firm

No arrests had been made at press time in the $65 robbery of di Benedetto Television and Appliance store on Beach Boulevard but two suspects are being hunted, Sheriff Gerald V. Price sr. said today.

The robbery was discovered Tuesday morning by George di Benedetto, proprietor, when he opened for business. Entry was made through a rear window by bending metal bars apart. Price disclosed that it must have been a small person or persons who entered the store because of the

Waveland Council Backs Assessments by Dufour

Waveland's Town Council at its meeting last night backed up Tax Assessor C. O. Dufour's assessments and postponed until its regular meeting on Sept. 6, consideration of the date for election of Alderman William Ruhr's successor. Ruhr succumbed last week to a heart attack.

In only one instance did the board reduce an assessment. In that instance they did agree that part of Mrs. B. H. Lister's frontage on Beach Boulevard should not be assessed at the usual $30 per foot because of a swamp and pond that made it less useable than high and dry ground. Even so, the reduction from $30 to $15 per front was voted on only about one-half of the 300 foot frontage Mrs. Lister's petition had sought.

The 1960-61 budget, a standby pump for the town's main well and a formal request for a decrease in assessment on property occupied Waveland's mayor and board of aldermen for 10 hours last Thursday.

S. E. Moore, John May and William Bass of the Biloxi accounting firm of Moore and Powell discussed with the board actual receipts from various sources for the first ten months of fiscal 1959-60 projected for the full 12 months and actual expenditures projected for the same period.

An amended budget for the current fiscal year totaling approximately $151,000, including some $90,000 for the gas and

Central Avenue Strip Repairs Underway

Central Avenue, between Webb St. in Bay St. Louis and Nicholson Avenue in Waveland will be closed to traffic until Wednesday afternoon when a portion of the road is hard-packed, Mayor John A. Scudiffe has announced. He asks all motorists to observe the barricades until work is completed. The unpaved surface of about one-tenth of a mile is scheduled to be sealed by the middle of the week, barring inclement weather, he said.

(Cont. from Page 1.) cost of open gutters and asked the planners to leave the requirement in the ordinance. He further expressed concern about septic tanks being required to meet only what the Mississippi Health Department calls for, arguing that these requirements tend to be on the laxest side. The health department, he said, takes the position that the stomach from septic tanks never killed anyone, and offered to expose anyone to the smell who has missed it, challenging doctors. He also suggested requiring septic tanks to be installed within a certain distance from the street. As the discussion moved to a climax, the mayor remarked he would rather see a septic tank regulation and have them enforced as the first step to getting subdivision control for Bay St. Louis and asked his hope of seeing overflow into open ditches eliminated.

The proposed ordinance contains a provision that variance may be obtained when requirements are shown to cause extraordinary hardship, so long as it does not violate the intent of the master city plan.

St. Clare's Nears Election Party

Mayor Gerald L. Latham of Waveland has announced the election of the St. Clare's Catholic Church as the meeting place for the election party. North Central Enrollment Nearing 800

Enrollment at Hancock North Central School is near the 800 mark already and still climbing. Principal Leo R. Rouse reported this week. He expects final figures to easily top 800 when more pupils come in after the Labor Day weekend.

The figure represents an increase of about 100 over last year and Rouse said most of the gain seems to be in the beginning grades. High school enrollment is about 350 and in the elementary division between 425 and 450.

The driver was identified by Highway Patrolman T. P. Naylor as Donald M. Nettle of Metairie. Nettle was driving a 1957 Ford and towing a 1953 Cadillac. The mishap occurred about 4 p.m. on U. S. 90 about two miles west of the Rt. 45 intersection. The lead car was damaged about $150.

Stanislaus Due 450 Pupils for New Term

An enrollment of about 450 pupils is expected when St. Stanislaus College opens its doors Thursday to begin the 1960-61 year. Since last opening in 1954, according to Brother Philip, S.C., who will serve as president for the second year, about 230 students are anticipated in the high school department and about 220 in the elementary section.

Painting of all classrooms and study halls was completed during the summer, the ceilings being white with soft green and blue on the walls.

Board students are to report by 5:30 p.m. Thursday and day students must be on campus by 8:45 a.m. Wednesday when distribution of classes will take place and text books will be handed out.

Some faculty change in the high school is the return of Brother Ralph who spent last year at Car Jesu High School in New Orleans. Brother Philip continues as principal with Brothers Ralph and Roger as senior teachers; Brothers Adolphus and Godfrey, juniors; Brothers Norman and Basil, sophomores; and Brothers Coleman and Loyola, freshmen. Kathleen Ratz Jr., James Zimmerman and Wayne Dugas will continue as teachers and coaches.

P. J. Poth has been appointed as the new head disciplinarian. The elementary department had three changes. Brother Edward who was transferred to Catholic High School, Baton Rouge, La. Brother Roderic replaces Brother Lester and Brother Valery replaces Brother Germaine. Brothers Lester and Germaine were transferred to schools in the East.

New Parish School Staff Is Announced

Faculty for the first year of operation at the new Our Lady of the Gulf Parish School was announced this week by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Martin Maloney.

Sister Edward will serve as principal with her staff consisting of Sisters Leonard, Vincent, Sydney, Alfred and Mercedes. Joseph Benvenuto, John Schum, Henry Legas, Carol Murphy, Misses Anna Marie Piazza, Ruby LaFrance and Marie Staehle.

Teachers will not be assigned to specific classrooms until the number of pupils in each grade is determined.

Final registration, payment of registration fees, first month's tuition and distribution of books is scheduled today and tomorrow with classes to begin at 9 a.m. Tuesday.

Msgr. Maloney said he had anticipated a large enrollment but the number to date already has exceeded his expectations.

J. O. Walker, representing Mingo Pump and Machinery Co., advised the board to purchase a gasoline auxiliary motor for the pump of the town's principal well rather than another electric pump. He explained that in case of an electric power failure the town would still have water and that the motor could also serve as a standby in case of failure of the present motor.

A standby electric pump, Walker explained, would cost about $1,000 while the gasoline motor plus necessary accessories would cost approximately $2,000. But he added he thought the additional expense would be wise. Town council took no action on either proposal.

St. Clare's Fair Aides Are Honored

The Holy Name Society of St. Clare's Church was host at a victory supper for the workers of the recent fair on Saturday at the parish hall.

Sterling Balaski, president of the Holy Name, was master of ceremonies and introduced John Anderson, who gave a complete report on each booth and the total net proceeds.

The Rev. M. J. Costello, pastor, was presented with a $4,200 check by Carlos Lozano, general chairman. Father Costello thanked the Holy Name and all the workers for the splendid work they had done which had led to the most successful of all fairs at St. Clare's. He also complimented the group upon the cooperation that exists among the parishioners in all parish activities.

Words of thanks and appreciations were also expressed to the workers by Lozano, and co-chairmen Jimmy Lagasse and Henry Develle.

Shadoin-Gautier Vows Are in Biloxi Ceremony

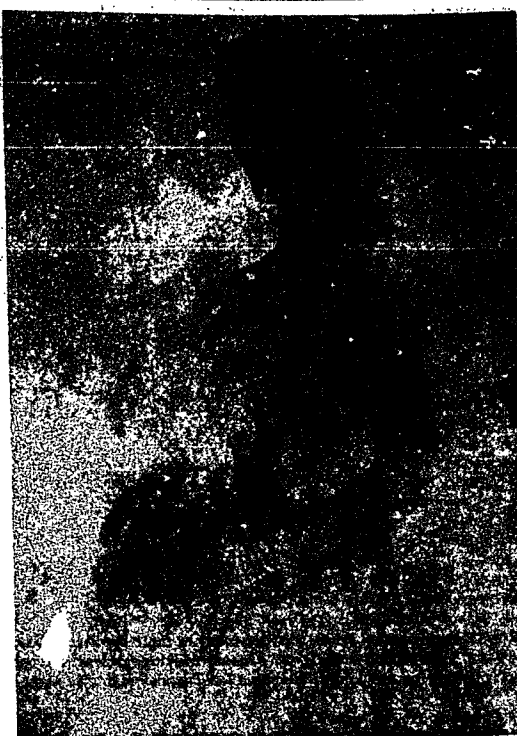

Mr. and Mrs. Shadoin-Gautier, of Biloxi, became the latest Biloxi couple to be married in a ceremony Saturday morning at the Episcopal Church of the Redeemer in Biloxi.

The bride, Miss Mary Shadoin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Shadoin, of Bay St. Louis, was given away by her father. She wore a gown of white tulle over white silk, with a sash of white and pink. Her hair was styled in a short, wavy bob. She carried a bouquet of white and pink flowers.

The groom, Mr. Shadoin, was dressed in a white tuxedo. He carried a sword and a ring bearer. The ceremony was officiated by the Rev. J. R. Shadoin, pastor of the church.

After the ceremony, the couple left on a wedding trip to the Smoky Mountains. The bride was wearing a fitted suit of Italian silk of rust, styled with a stand up collar and three-quarter length sleeves with black accessories, adding the arch of her bouquet at the shoulder.

Mr. and Mrs. Shadoin will be at home after Sept. 10 in Starkville where they will continue their studies at Mississippi State University.

BEAUTY TIPS

CAN YOU PAINT YOUR OWN PORTRAIT?

Most of us aren't so talented that we can paint our own pictures for the living room wall. Yet many women feel that they can make a pleasing picture with their own hairbrush! And this is true... IF you use your comb and brush to preserve the basic portrait—the professional permanent wave and the professional setting which your trained hairdresser has given you.

We're not just making motions! Probably it does look that way... But there's a plan behind every quick movement of our fingers as we set your hair. (You, yourself, may be able to twist a fine ringlet into place, but that's far from the whole answer where setting is concerned.) Someday, just for fun, try to sketch your set as it is given. You'll be amazed to find that many ringlets are turned this way, or that. Sometimes a quick sweep of the comb before the ringlet is twisted is responsible for the whole, lovely finished line! We work, you see, with a finished portrait in our minds. It's not so simple after all.

Line and Balance, the Real Secret... These are the features that give your hair a "styled" look! The artist who works on canvas must first master line and balance. In the same way, we hairdressers and hairstylists learn this—and many other beauty secrets, before we are graduate beauticians, ready to practice our art on your precious heads. The manner in which we cut and shape your hair, the way we block it into sections to wrap your wave, the quick motion that brings us the right size curling rod for each separate area... all this is artistic know-how... From the moment our hands touch your hair, the plan is there. Our hands work swiftly and surely from hours and hours of practice—but they never work haphazardly!

Isn't it wonderful to have that confident feeling when you turn a lovely head! Aren't you glad you came to our salon? Come again... and often!

For your beauty advice call HO 7-5202; Mercedes' Beauty Salon, Clermont Harbor.
